RehabPlus Staffing Group, Inc. Announces Name Change to AlignStaffing

Washington, D.C. (January 22, 2008) RehabPlus Staffing Group, Inc., a privately held minority-owned business, announced today that it will adopt the new name of AlignStaffing to better serve customers and more accurately reflect its broadened scope of social services and healthcare staffing placement nationwide.

In announcing this name change, Aaron Copeland, President, remarked, "The change to AlignStaffing makes sense for our group. It better describes what we do without limiting the services we offer. As RehabPlus, we have been providing quality staffing service in the rehabilitative, as well as nursing, social services and allied health arena for 10 years, and it was time the name reflected that scope of services. We are proud to represent and place top-notch candidates for our customers and look forward to continuing that success as AlignStaffing."

AlignStaffing is a leading healthcare and social services provider of staffing solutions for commercial and government clients that attracts highly-qualified personnel across disciplines. We help organizations find the best match for their critical, unique staffing needs. AlignStaffing provides qualified, pre-screened candidates to hospitals, schools, nursing homes, the military and government agencies. The company uses rapport™, a proprietary process that screens both candidates and customers to find the best employment match possible for all parties.
